

8 PAGES OF DOWNY PLAINES

Two Members of Corrupt Liquor Interests That Voted for Lodge

Eight flames were driven from their homes in the Cobb apartments, a four-story brick building at No. 23 Kent street, Brooklyn, by the early today. Nine were injured at several persons, thirty died, shivered in the cold until they were taken into neighboring houses and saved.

Three women and two boys fought their way to the front entrance through the dense smoke which filled the building and were partially overcome, but quickly recovered when cut by jets of steam from the windows on the second floor.

The fire, which did a damage of $500, was confined to a front sleeping room in the apartment of James Driscoll on the second floor, where it originated, from a cause as yet unknown. Driscoll had left the building to go to his work in the street department and a man painting the place about 7:30 saw flames coming from the windows on the second floor.

An alarm from box 6 brought the firemen who found their work cut out for them as the flames had taken from the walls and the room was a solid mass of smoke.

Mr. Driscoll had occasion to return to the house, and arrived just in time to aid in assisting his wife and son Joseph to the street. Mrs. Driscoll had been aroused by the flames and had awakened the family of C. W. Lachance, who live in the opposite apartment on the second floor. Mrs. Driscoll went to the second floor by a back door, and was seen by a neighbor, but not by the firemen.

Mrs. E. H. Hunter and her son Charles, who live on the third floor, made their way to the front door through the stifling smoke. Mrs. Hunter was overcome. The families of C. K. Kelle and S. W. Downer, who occupy the upper floor, also fought their way to the front door through the smoke. Those of H. C. Woodbury, H. Chase and Frank Fisher made their way out by the rear entrance.

The building is owned by Ernest H. Webb of Braintree. The cause of the fire is as yet unknown.

LIQUOR INTERESTS GIVE SENATOR 2 VOTES

Henry Cabot Lodge was re-elected to the United States Senate this afternoon, receiving 140 votes. This is five votes more than the constitution required. Sherman L. Whipple received 121 votes. There was only one member of the General and absent—James H. McInerney of Ward 19. Representative McCullough, who was classed by the Lodge men as likely to vote for Lodge, cast his ballot for Thayer.

Aided by Corrupt Liquor Interests of Boston.

But the most astonishing thing in the contest was that Lodge's re-election was largely accomplished by the corrupt liquor interests of the city. He received the votes of 10 Democratic senators, Martin P. F. Murray of Ward 23 and 24.

It has been known for some time that the Lodge men did not believe they could win without Democratic votes. It was for that reason that they had decided upon having Sen. McCullough and McInerney cast their votes for Lodge, but the vote of the majority in the AMERICAN was won almost solely by the votes of the Democratic senators, and instead of a vote for Lodge, and instead of a vote for the liquor interests, it was a vote for the liquor interests.

There was a host of sentiment in the room when the first announcement was made to the Lodge room. The vote came from Representative Ames of Worcester. The sentiment that if Lodge held yesterday's vote he had at least one more to his credit to add.

Lodge Vote Increased.

The next vote added to the total came from Representative Collins of Amesbury, who was absent yesterday. He was present today and voted for Lodge. The President of the Senate said to Mr. Amesbury that he was glad to see him.

After the final count was made Mr. Amesbury made this announcement:

In today's roll a congratulatory speech that Lodge gained 5, Walker lost 4 and Thayer, Guild and McBride held their own.

Following the election of Senator Lodge the following statement was issued by members of the Progressive Republican League, who supported Lodge.

"No Apologies to Offer."

"We are not surprised at the re-election of Mr. Lodge having seen for some days that it would probably be accomplished."

"The first indication of a splendidly successful result was given by the roll call of the members of the Senate."

These legislators who voted for Mr. Lodge thought it safer to rely on the finger-finger of the Legislature. We have our own share in this contest with no authority or responsibility to Mr. Lodge."

J. Mottish McInerney was out of a job. But didn't sit down in a corner and sob. He wrote out a three-line American. Which got him the best one he ever had.

A LIFETIME OF DISFIGUREMENT

Mothers Should Realize What Neglect of Skin Troubles May Mean to Children.

A lifetime of disfigurement and suffering often results from the neglect, in infancy or childhood, of minor affections of the skin and scalp. A mother overlooks a little rash or attempts some simple treatment and in a day, perhaps, her little one is covered with severe

A multitude of remedies are tried, doctor after doctor consulted and hosals visits, but too often the suffering extends, without substantial relief, from days to weeks, weeks to months and months to years. Added to this is the ever-present fear that the itching, burning and disfigurement will become chronic, marring future welfare and making life miserable.

In the prevention of the simple skin affections from which all this suffering so often arises, and in establishing a condition of skin health, mothers are assured that nothing is purer, sweeter or more effective than Cuticura soap, assisted by Cuticura ointment. And greater still, if possible, is the success of these simple household remedies in the treatment of the severer skin troubles themselves. With the first warm bath with Cuticura soap and gentle application of Cuticura ointment, the itching and burning usually cease, the child falls into a refreshing sleep, the mother rests and for the first time, possibly, in many weeks peace falls on a distracted household. Frequently a single cake of Cuticura soap and box of Cuticura ointment are ...sufficient.
